

Obituary

Died: Friday, May 25, 2012

Sherri Lea Webster, 54, the daughter of Mary Margaret Parker and Richard Sutton, was born on July 16, 1958 in Franklin, Indiana. She was the eldest of two children. Sherri graduated from Greenwood High school in Greenwood, Indiana in 1976 and soon after furthered her education at I.V. Technical College in Indianapolis Indiana. Sherri was Homecoming Queen and dedicated member of her high school cheerleading team. She was a medical Transcriptionist and editor for over 30 years working from home where she spent most of her free time. Sherri surrounded herself in the things she loved the most, delicious food, a warm loving family, and a passion for music; she was happiest when attending concerts, festivals or discovering new musical talent. Her own words describe what she truly enjoyed best, "music, soul searching and improvement, seeking the TRUTH, enjoying witty, interesting and original people of any color, form, shape or culture." In addition Sherri was a beloved mother, spouse, sister, and grandmother who left behind something that cannot be written but only felt in the heart and soul of the people lucky enough to know her. Sherri died May 25, 2012 with her family by her side in Houston, Texas at M.D Anderson Cancer Center. She leaves to cherish her life two children, son, Christopher Webster, daughter, Gabrielle Fetherson, parents, Richard(Mary Jane) Sutton, brother, Steve Sutton, husband, Kenneth Fetherson, Terry Webster, Daughter-in-law, Rachel Sharkey, Granddaughters, Tatum Webster, Sky and Kyana Sutton, Dog, Chloe, and a host of Step brothers and sisters, other relatives, and many friends.
