Oliver served a short time in the United States Army and worked at Fed Ex for many years until he became ill.

Oliver loved playing jazz and drinking Pepsi. He resided at North Capital Nursing and Rehab and was spoiled by his cousin, Janice Daniel and staff, where they often had to bribe him with a Pepsi to do a task with him, until his passing.

Oliver fought as long as he could and at 5:50 am on the 21st of November God saw him getting tired and called him home from labor to reward.

Oliver was preceded in death by his parents, R.G. and Mary Evans; daughter, Female Infant Evans; and sister, Kathrine Tuck.

Oliver leaves to carry on his legacy sons, Sonnie Oliver Evans and Anthony Depaul Evans; daughter, Robin Marie Whitley; nephew, Gregory Tuck; niece, Kachhelle Smith; grandchild, LaVante Cain; aunt, Willa Allen; uncle, Ronald Williams and host of cousins and friends.
