In 1952, David, Willie and the first 5 children moved from Sharon, Mississippi to Evansville, Indiana. While in Evansville, Indiana they had six more children. In 1965, he and his family moved to Indianapolis, Indiana. David would later move to East Chicago, Indiana in 1970. He resided there until 2014, when he returned back to Indianapolis, Indiana, where he resided with his daughter Sallie until his death. David had a personal relationship with Christ and was an active member at Ebenezer Baptist Church in East Chicago, Indiana, serving on the usher board. He united with Grace Missionary Baptist Church when he moved back to Indianapolis until his health prevented him from attending.

On any given day you could find him on the corner with his retired buddies. He retired from Wonder Bread after 20 years.

One of his favorite past times was hunting. He loved his family and for them to gather around him.
