Reginald Stewart Roberts

"He trusted God!!!"

Reginald Stewart Roberts, affectionately known as "Reggie," was born to the late Joel S. Roberts and Deloris (Gatewood) Roberts on August 17, 1965 in Indianapolis, IN. Reggie was the sixth child of nine and the first-born son.

At an early age, Reggie gave his life to Christ while attending Messiah Missionary Baptist Church and later joined Mt. Zion Apostolic Church where he was filled with the Holy Spirit. He met his lovely wife, Tamara Joy Ware-Roberts at the age 18 and they were soon wedded on November 3, 1989. From this union, one beautiful daughter, Whitney Nate' was born and their marriage would go on to last 31 years.

Reggie was indeed a true family man. As a young man, his father taught him journeyman skills and nurtured his love for building. To his credit stands a beautiful back yard, equipped with a gazebo and outdoor kitchen for which he loved barbecuing and entertaining family and friends. He loved cooking and always wanted his meals to taste just right so much so that when he and his brother hosted a Barbecue cook-off, he won the bragging rights. Reggie was an avid motorcyclist and a show-off. He found true joy in spending time with his grandkids and other than God, nothing came before them. After his retirement, he used his opportunity to pour into them, stressing the importance of the experience of life and giving back. He was a devoted man of God, taking every opportunity to share his faith with anyone he met and always gave a word of encouragement.

Reggie departed his life Thursday, June 3, 2021. He leaves to cherish his memory his wife, Tamara Joy Ware-Roberts; daughter, Whitney Nate' Roberts-Shields (Marcus Shields); grandchildren, Mason and MaKya Shields; one brother, John-Mark Preston Roberts (Tina Roberts) and seven sisters, Rita Roberts, Connette Bush, Carol Bebley (Eric Bebley), Sandra Wimberly, Patty Moore, Loris Anderson, Grace Fultz (Terrance Fultz), Latoya Bush-Capler (his 'sister' niece); his dearly beloved in-laws, Myrena Ware, Nathaniel and Adolph Ware (Lynda Ware), Sharon Wilson (Artez Wilson), Kathy Ware, Deborah Mitchell (Orlando Mitchell), Darla Parker (William Parker), and a host of other nieces, nephews, family and friends
